

Mr Pradeep Kurukulasuriya

Executive Coordinator, United Nations Development Programme (UNDP)

Pradeep Kurukulasuriya is the Executive Coordinator, ad interim, of Global Environmental Finance, UNDP. Until recently, he was the Head of UNDP's Climate Change Adaptation program where he led UNDP's support to more than 120 countries around the world to access, combine and sequence financing from the various global climate funds, including those managed by the Global Environment Facility (GEF) and the Green Climate Fund. An environmental economist by training, Pradeep holds a PhD from Yale University, and a Master of Philosophy from Cambridge University (UK). He has numerous publications in leading international economics journals.

#Atoms4Life