

International Expert Group on Nuclear Liability

INLEX is a group of experts with recognized high-level competence in the field of civil liability for nuclear damage and related issues, established in 2003 by the IAEA Director General

2003 Establishment

3
Major Functions

19
Current Members
(including the Chair)

Key Output Achievements

2003 Establishment

INLEX provides authoritative advice
on nuclear liability issues

INLEX contributes to IAEA activities aimed at establishing a Global Nuclear Liability Regime and its implementation at the national level through assistance to Member States

3 Major Functions

Provide a forum of expertise to explore and advise on issues related to nuclear liability

Enhance adherence to an effective Global Nuclear Liability Regime

Assist in the development and strengthening of national nuclear liability legal frameworks

19

Current Members

(including the Chair)

Current Members

include nuclear power and non-nuclear power States

Members serve in their individual capacity and do not represent any Governments or organizations

Key Output Achievements

23

annual and special meetings

2 Publications

Explanatory Texts – 1997 Vienna Convention and the CSC (2020)
1988 Joint Protocol (2013)

20+

Bilaterals missions on nuclear liability to Member States

2012

Recommendations on ways of facilitating the establishment of the Global Nuclear Liability Regime

2022

Statement on the Benefits of Joining the Global Nuclear Liability Regime

14

Regional and sub-regional workshops on nuclear liability

10

Workshops for diplomats on nuclear liability

INLEX Reporting

The INLEX Chair informs the Director General and the IAEA Legal Advisor and the Director of the Office of Legal Affairs on the outcome of INLEX meetings and activities

The Secretariat reports on INLEX meetings and activities to the Agency's policy-making organs, as appropriate

FURTHER INFORMATION

Office of Legal Affairs
International Atomic Energy Agency
Vienna International Centre
PO Box 100, 1400 VIENNA, AUSTRIA
Tel.: (+43 1) 2600-21506
Email: Legislative-Assistance.Contact-Point@iaea.org

INLEX website

