

Lorenzo Ravano

Ambassador, Resident Representative of the Principality of Monaco to the IAEA

As Resident Representative, the Ambassador of the Principality of Monaco follows IAEA activities in priority sectors of interest for the Monaco Government and contributes to its promotion.

The main sectors of interest of Monaco in the IAEA are mainly the peaceful application of nuclear science technologies in the field of fight against climate change/preservation of biodiversity and oceans through the Marine Environment Laboratories of the IAEA based in Monaco and human health, through the support of the role of the Agency in the fight against cancer by reinforcing access to diagnosis and treatment and providing technical assistance, notably for the most vulnerable around the globe.