

Mr Masanori Koguchi

President,
Japan Atomic Energy Agency (JAEA)

Biography

Mr KOGUCHI Masanori joined the Mitsubishi Heavy Industries (MHI) in 1978. He has built his career mainly in the fields of finance and accounting and worked on management reform and financial restructuring of MHI.

In 2015, he became Member of the Board, Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer (CFO).

After retiring from MHI, he assumed the role of President of the Japan Atomic Energy Agency in 2022.

He has the responsibility to efficiently and effectively promote tasks to be addressed, which are the development of advanced reactors and its fuel cycle, promotion of decommissioning tasks, and contributions of neutron technology to the medical field and other industrial fields and so on, and incorporating management know-how fostered in the private sector.