

Ms. Sônia da Costa

Director, Directorate of Social Technology, Solidarity Economy and Assistive Technology, Ministry of Science, Technology and Innovation, Brazil

Ms. Sônia da Costa presently acts as President of the Technical Committee for Agribusiness at the National Fund for Scientific and Technological Development. She is responsible for public policies for food security at the Ministry of Science and Technology, with focus on family agriculture, agro-ecological transition, sustainable use of water resources and social technologies for social inclusion and combating hunger. She is also working on the support of applied research to mitigate the effects of droughts and the desertification process in Brazil. Dr. da Costa earned her PhD in Education.