

HE Mr Ibrahima Sy, Minister of Health and Social Action of Senegal

HE Dr. Ibrahima Sy is the current Minister of Health and Social Action in Senegal and a public health and health governance expert. Prior to his appointment, Dr. Sy was a researcher with a focus on spatial and socioeconomic inequalities in health, particularly in the context of Caesarean section rates in Dakar.

He completed his PhD in Health Geography at the University of Strasbourg, France and has held academic positions at the University of Strasbourg and the Cheikh Anta Diop University in Dakar. He also coordinated research projects in Mauritania, Senegal and Côte d'Ivoire in collaboration with national institutions such as CSE and CR4D (Climate Research for Development).